

"SEE MY TREE!"

ews

Week in our school and only a very few reported for the first day. This speaks well of the school as the Haveners and it shows how interested the children are in their education. We have also had three from some of the parents. Dillingham's team ran away while he was in Clovis. As a result he has a large bruise on his face, that was caused by a doctor. He is getting very nicely now.

Perhaps we should not tell the day on which this happened, but we want to thank J. B. Woods for the absence of the wolf he killed last Sunday.

Henry Eshleman accompanied by his chum, Pat Stevens, visited home folks, Saturday and Sunday.

Wm. and Russel Hankhouse and Nellie, John and Harry Willis were the guests of Master Lee Willis, Sunday.

The party at the home of Mrs. Clawson Saturday evening, was well attended despite the fact that the wind was doing its best against the will of the crowd.

Taffy pulling was the main occupation. The party was given for Lester Clawson, who expects to be called out as telegraph operator, before Xmas.

Miss Ruth Stanford was the guest of Amy and Grace Anderson, Tuesday night.

Prof. Ford and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hopkins, Sunday.

Nels Anderson and his daughter, Grace, went to Clovis, Saturday, but what we want to know is what Grace spent her money for, she seems to have some kind of a package, but we will find out when Xmas comes.

A committee of three, Messrs. Ford, A. L. Dillingham and Bert Eshleman, met one night last week to make preparations for Haveners' Xmas doings.

The Havener people listened attentively to the good sermon delivered by Bro. Wilson, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lola Smith is spending the week in Clovis.

The appearance of the post-office at Havener is improved by the addition of a large Calendar Clock.

Late reports from promoters and railroad builders concerning the north and south road from Tucumcari to Midland via Clovis, indicate that the only hitch now in the proceedings is the acceptance of the proposition by Tucumcari, all other towns along the proposed route having given the desired assurances. The question is now up to Tucumcari. What will she do?

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jefferson came in Monday on the east bound train.

Mrs. K. J. Houston of St. Vrain was in Clovis Monday, shopping.

Misses Lertie and Willie Turner, of Melrose, are spending a few days in Clovis this week the guests of Miss Ruby Cook.

Patrons of the Clovis postoffice will have to dig deeper in their pockets for box rent after the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bates returned from Roswell the early part of the week, after spending a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Courtney, of Hollene, were in town the latter part of the week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Courtney.

Paul Coldren, agent for the Santa Fe townsite of Muleshoe, on the new Gulf-Pacific railroad, was in the city several days this week, stopping at the Harvey House. He reports that the new depot at Muleshoe is nearly in completion and that the country generally in that locality has a prosperous appearance. He returned today in company with his agent, Cash Ramey and J. E. Lidington.
